

2022 Master's Program at the Graduate School of Logistics, Incheon National University Notice on Recruitment of Russian Arctic Indigenous People of the North, Siberia, and the Far East for Full Scholarships

We are recruiting Russian Arctic Indigenous People of the North, Siberia, and the Far East for full scholarships in 2022

November 8, 2021

Dean, Graduate School of Logistics, Incheon National University

Objectives

- Expand exchanges with Arctic indigenous people through the scholarship program for Russian Arctic Indigenous People
- Help the participating Arctic indigenous people grow into players leading the future of the Arctic through the completion of the master's program at the Graduate School of Logistics
- Help them understand Korea and Korean Culture during the 4(four) semesters of the master's program, contribute to strengthening Korea-Russia ties as a partner of Korea in the future Arctic arena, and create a foundation for growth as a future Arctic partner

Project execution: Incheon National University Graduate School of Logistics (INU GSL)

The subject of the program: Limited to those applying for the master's program as Arctic indigenous people of Russian nationality

- Refer to the attached materials for specific admission guidelines (Interview may be conducted through a video call)

Recruitment process and volume of recruitment

- Master's program: 4(four) students (Department of Logistics Management and Department of Logistics System)

Support Scholarship

Category	Type	Scholarship Details
Full Scholarship	The tuition fee of the INU GSL	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ covers the total cost of tuition (including entrance fee) ※Tuition fee of KRW 3,225,000 and entrance fee of KRW 485,000 in March 2022
	Cost of staying in INU GSL	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Supports full boarding fee ▪ Supports flight fare ▪ Supports monthly insurance premium ▪ Supports monthly living cost
	Research fund	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Support for domestic and overseas shipping and logistics site visits ▪ Arctic port logistics research fund

※ Scholarship applicants for the Northern Logistics Educational Cooperation and Human Resource Development Program (support for tuition and stipend) are determined by the availability of government subsidies, meaning that there may be no scholarship when government assistance is not available and in this case all expenses must be paid for by students themselves.

Contact Us

- Department: Educational Cooperation for Northern Logistics and Human Resources Development Program Group
- Person in charge: Mr. Subeom CHOI / Vice-Head of Program Group
- Phone: +82-32-835-4667 Fax: +82-32-835-0703 Mobile: +82-1072231315
- Email: choisubeom@inu.ac.kr
- SNS: WhatsApp (+82-102231315), KakaoTalk (id: choisubeom)